

Home

Official e-zine of Ministry of Overseas Indian Affairs

search..

- World Wide Web
 Overseasindian.in

Bid to make Kerala IT hub

New York, Oct 7: The Kerala Information Technology Alliance (KITA) has been launched here to make Kerala a premier global technology hub.

Oommen Chandy, a former chief minister of Kerala, inaugurated KITA at the Kerala Centre in the presence of over 150 IT professionals and community leaders.

Kerala Chief Minister V.S. Achuthanandan said in a message: "I hope KITA will provide a platform for IT professionals of Kerala origin to share best practices, ideas and thereby influence and accelerate the growth of Kerala in key industries."

A voluntary body, KITA hopes to provide the network and connections for Malayalees and IT professionals worldwide to tap their collective intelligence and to innovate.

:: Current Issue

- Pravasi Bharatiya

- प्रवासी भारतीय

:: Archives

:: Contribute an article

INFORMATION SERVICE FOR OVERSEAS INDIANS

- India Factfile

- Ministry

- Books

- India Features

- Opinion

- In the Media

- Festivals

Pravasi Bharatiya
Divas 2007

Image Gallery

:: PBD 2006

:: Minister for Overseas
Indian Affairs

Valayar Ravi, who assumed office as the new

Overseas Indian Affairs Minister on January 30, 2006, was born in 1937 in Valayar village of Kerala's Allappuzha district...

:: News

- Africa

- America/Canada

- South East Asia

- Australasia

- Europe

- Gulf/Middle East

Diaspora Newsmakers

Indian American wins Spirit of Liberty award

An Indian American
Ramesh
Gangolli has been chosen for this year's Spirit of Liberty award for his contribution to his community.

Home | About us | Feedback/Query | Contact Us

©Copyright 2007 Ministry of Overseas Indian Affairs
Site designed and maintained by IANS Solutions